Field of the Invention This invention relates generally to support structures for carpeting, and more particularly to a specialized plastic insert for use under carpeting in order to provide a level walking surface, prevent objects from lying on the carpeting, prevent sub-surface damage to the carpeting and/or protecting the carpeting from possible damage from machinery and equipment in the area adjacent to the carpeting. 2. Description of the Prior Art Peg board, a wooden board with holes drilled therethrough for supporting metal nails, has been used in the past to prevent objects from resting on carpeting or to protect the carpeting from damage from machinery and equipment in the area adjacent to the carpeting. Although peg board is inexpensive, it is also of limited application. As can be readily appreciated, since the peg board only provides a flat surface and an area is typically provided between the peg board and the carpeting to provide some sort of cushioning, there will typically be an area of unevenness or a step-up effect between the surface of the carpeting and the flat peg board. This is the only standard peg board used to reduce the possible damage to the carpeting. The present invention is distinguished over the prior art in general, and these patents in particular as follows: U.S. Pat. No. 2,796,207 to Akins PA1 U.S. Pat. No. 3,256,655 to Culler PA1 U.S. Pat.
